SINCLAIR WILL BE BEFORE OIL INQUIRY TODAY

Succession of Thrills Expected to Develop—To Be Questioned on Wide Range of Subjects, Some as Yet Untouched

HAYS SUBPOENAED

Former Postmaster General and A Jennings, Outlaw, Called—Latter Friend of Jake Hamman, G. O. P. Leader

Washington, Mar. 20. — A succession of thrills is looked for tomorrow by the oil committee with the appearance before it of Harry F. Sinclair upon whom a subpoena was served today at New York.

pared to question Sinclair on a wide range of subjects, some of which have been gone into rather exhaustively through other witnesses and others of which have not yet been touched upon.

Among the new phases is a statement that the New York oil magnate turned over a large batch of securities to Will H. Hays, former postmaster general, and Attorney General Cummings.

The committee had hoped to go into this summer today, but G. D. Wahl berg, former private secretary to Min-clair, who was to be questioned about it failed to respond when his name was called. Later committee members learned that he had been ordered to Havana, by his physicians because of ill health.

A subpoena for WHI H. Hays has been issued by the committee and he is expected to be here Saturday. Carmel A. Thompson of Cleveland also is summoned for that day so far as what he knows, if anything. A rumor of oil "leak" at the Hopeville, La., national convention, a Gulf most colorful of the new six-month-old investigation.

In connection with the Chicago gossip the committee today issued subpoenas for Al Jennings of Los Angeles, noted business travel writer at Oklahoma. It will not be possible for Jennings reach Washington before the hearing.

Former Representative Thomas Jefferson Ryan, New York, apparently voluntarily to deny under oath that he had ever dealt in any oil transaction.

He asked for an apology from the committee for bringing his name in the inquiry.

Senator Walsh told him that a "apology" was unnecessary; that was a case of mistaken identity, and that personally he regretted that mistake had been made. Ryan the said he had no doubt that it was an "honest mistake," on the part of the committee's auditor, Louis V. Bond.

Terms of Smith's UN Break.

Recalled to the stand, Bond examined ed how he had reached the erroneous conclusion that the account with W. B. Hibbs and company in the name of T. J. Ryan was the former representative and asserted that primarily the fault for the error, was charged to Hibbs and Company for withholding

Before leaving the stand and thus bringing the session to a close, Sen. Smith read into the record a detailed account of the oil stock transactions of Joseph W. Smith, confident of Attorney General Daugherty, which were carried out by the American Petroleum Institute.

This account showed a purchase of 1,700 shares of Sinclair and other stocks in 1922, the sale of 50 shares at a profit of $1,531 and 50 shares remaining "long" to the

UNADILLA VILLAGE ELECTION.

Norman Hunsford Noyes, President.

Unadilla, Mar. 20.—Little interest was taken in the village election held on Tuesday, there being no opposition to the joint ticket named. The officers chosen are:

President—Norman Hunsford.

Treasurer—J. J. Carmichael.

Collector—Delbert Crandall.

The present clerk is W. J. Topf.

His successor will be named at the meeting of the board Monday evening, next.

Woman's Club Activities.

The members of the Woman's club enjoyed another instructive musical and literary evening Wednesday.

Mrs. Cora Foster, first vice president, had charge of the program, assisted by Mrs. Louis Staseman, who arranged the music.

Roll call was responded to by brief topics of interest.

A paper, written by Mrs. Fischler, "The Community Theatre in America," was read by Mrs. Foster and was both interesting and instructive.

"A Code of Morals for Children," by Hutchings, was read by Miss Cole. It was all lived up to this code there would be no more government or local scandals.

The music was rendered by Mrs. Claude Oles on the violin and Mrs. Belle Loomis at the piano and was heartily enjoyed and encore demanded.

The members joined in singing several songs, closing with "Softly Now the Light of Day."

At the meeting March 26th Charles Jackson of the Unadilla Nursery gardens will address the club. His Subject will be: "Shrubs; Their Use and Arrangement for Ornamental Purposes."

He should have a large audience as it will be a very profitable address.

Surprise Mrs. D. Y. Drew.

In honor of the 22nd birthday of Mrs. D. Y. Drew, 16 ladies of the Baptist church surprised her at her home Wednesday.

They carried supper with them and enjoyed a pleasant afternoon with her. Mr. Drew will celebrate his birthday March 21. He is upwards of 60 years of age.

T. McCoy of that city who died at Lake Worth, Fla., where he was spending the winter, and states that Mr. McCoy was born in Ireland about 75 years ago. Mr. McCoy served in a Pennsylvania regiment during the Civil war, afterwards resided in South Dakota, and from there went to the capital, where he became a prominent lawyer, and amassed wealth valued at about $17,000. By his will his entire property goes to his wife, Mrs. Margaret McCoy. He has five children living.

Watch "Weatherwise" Wind.

The "weatherwise" are anxiously beginning to watch the direction of the wind as it is claimed the set of the winds on March 20, 21 and 22, the equinox period, will be the prevailing winds for the next six months. Though these signs sometimes fail it has been noticed that in many more instances the wind and the weather of the equinoctial time holds good during the following season.

Club Meeting.

The regular meeting of the Inca club will be held with Mrs. William Mable at her home on Delaware avenue, Saturday of this week, at 3 p. m.

COMMENCEMENT PROGRAM

Plan Big Event — Stock Show Promises to Be Especially Attractive.

Delhi, Mar. 20.—The beginning event of commencement week at the State School of Agriculture at Delhi, will be the annual high school stock judging contest, held Friday, March 28. Usually from one-half dozen to a dozen southern New York high school teams compete for a silver cup to be the property of the winner and for a banner and ribbons. The students judge different rings of dairy cattle and of poultry. Some fine stock will be on exhibit this year.

On Saturday, March 29, will occur the annual stock show and mock auction. Individual students make for some time been preparing and training their animals with the result that this will be a real stock show, exhibiting some of the best dairy cattle of the different breeds in this part of the state. The stock all belong to the State School of Agriculture. A mock auction where only students bid, will be held. Students must give their reasons for the winning bid on the different animals. Professor Truman Crandall from the animal husbandry department of the State College of Agriculture at Ithaca, will be general manager and will give a talk on dairy cattle, which will be valuable for farmers and students.

R. Q. Smith of the Delaware County Farm bureau, and Elery Barney of the school, as the sales manager while Warren Hunt and Frank Hinchley will be auctioneers. The public is urged to be present.

On Saturday evening will be the annual reception to students and alumni at home of the director.

Rev. Horace E. Johnson will preach the annual sermon to class at St. John's church, Sunday evening.

Our big event of the week will be the annual school play held at the opera house, Tuesday evening.

The public is cordially invited to the class day exercises held in the auditorium of the Domestic Science building, at 3 o'clock, Wednesday afternoon, and the annual commencement exercises, 8 p. m. Wednesday.

The commencement exercises will be held at the Domestic Science building. Prof. Award of the State College of Agriculture will be the commencement speaker. The instructor and students of the teachers' training course will give a reception to students, alumni, and friends, in the Domestic Science parlors, Wednesday evening after commencement.

Supreme Court News.

Justice Kellogg, presiding at the March term of supreme court for Delaware county, is keeping things moving and needs to have some information on delays. The case of Hannah Herberger, administrator of Russell Carl Hans, deceased, vs. Fred Gales and John Rippert, which was given to the jury on Monday afternoon, resulted in a verdict for the plaintiff of $500.

O'Connor and O'Connor and Keenan, Brink and Harrison for plaintiff — Vincent N. Elwood for defendant. It will be remembered this was the case in which a boy of seven years lost his life by being run over by the cars of each of the defendants.

The next case to occupy the attention of judge and jury was a matter of annulment of a marriage, Charles Gregory vs. Lucy Gregory. When this case had reached a point where the attorneys were about ready to sum up, the judge took the case from the jury and gave the attorneys 20 days each in which to file briefs with him. Donald H. Grant of Oneonta represented the plaintiff and Arthur B. Langstaff of Albany, the defendant.

The case on trial Wednesday afternoon and Thursday morning and which is now in the hands of the jury is Carl Vane vs. Charles E. Thompson a negligence case arising from an automobile accident. Two and "Crut" for the plaintiff — Riverside, Dugan and Haines of Albany for the defense, A. L. O'Connor, also acted for the defense.

WHAT THE PAPERS SAY

The Victim Chair.
An endowed chair at a college is an exceedingly happy and appropriate memorial to a man who has participated actively in its direction during his lifetime. It is a constant reminder of that association, and it permits special and additional instruction of the students in the specialized field in which the donor was particularly interested and which he felt to be most vital to the thorough rounding out of a young man's educational opportunities.—[Lancaster New Era.]

Taxation in France.
The French senate has assented to the increase of 20 per cent in taxation, and M. Poincaré promises to send to prison any person who tries to make a profit out of the increase by unduly marking up his prices. But what is "unduly"? Certainly taxes are among a man's expenses. Political economists distinguish between taxes that can be passed on to the consumer and those that cannot be, but in practice nearly every tax is shifted off from one to another till the ultimate consumer is reached.—[Philadelphia Record.]

Are There Really Eight?
Captain Stefan Christensen, the scientist, has written a book in which he contradicts theories of Einstein. No doubt the six or eight men in the world who understand the theories of Einstein will have great fun reading it.—[Springfield Union.]

Movie Salaries.
One of the reforms incident to the reorganization of the motion picture industry is the reduction of movie stars' salaries to figures within the comprehension range of the ordinary mind.—[Indianapolis News.]

LEAGUERS DISSATISFIED.
Chicago County Patrons of Sheffield Receive $2,315.

The Sheffield plant at Woods Corners has paid its patrons for February for 2 per cent milk a cash price of $2.11, per hundred pounds. The Dairyman's League has announced it will pay its patrons for February for 2 per cent milk a cash price of $1.77. The difference between the two prices for February milk in the same zone is 34 cents per hundred.

The difference in price is of interest to those who belong to the pool and those who are non-poolers. Farmers in this territory who are members of the pool are quite indignant that the non-poolers receive more than 30 cents per hundred over what is paid the poolers, and it is feared that if the two prices continue to be so far apart it will do untold damage to the Dairyman's League in this territory.—[Norwich Sun.]

That Body of Yours
By James W. Barton, M.D.

MIND DOCTORS
Some of the results obtained by patients, that is physicians who treat the mind have been so remarkable that you often wonder how they go about the matter of handling such a peculiar thing as the mind or brain.

And yet these men will tell you, that they go about it just in the same manner as the doctor who treats any other part of the body. If you have constant pain in the stomach, or pain coming on at regular intervals, test meals, X Ray pictures, and other means are used to try to locate the cause. A pain in the eye or forehead will lead to an examination of the eye. A pain in the joints will lead to examination of the teeth; tonsils, or other places that may be causing the trouble.

And so when a patient who has attacks of hysteria, in which he will throw himself about, refuse to eat, have outbursts of temper, periods of depression, and a generally tired out condition of the body and brain, there must be a cause for it.

Any of these, or any combination of them, are having such a terrible effect upon the patient's health, that something very drastic often must be done to effect a cure.

And so these mind physicians patiently ask questions after question of these individuals.

They go back to the earliest time they can remember and try to find out just when something occurred that has "got on their minds." It may have been some shock, something they have done, or something someone else in their family has done, or which they have been witness to.

The physician does not always get all his information at the first visit. This is not because the patient doesn't want to tell the whole story, but sometimes because the event, or circumstances that really started the trouble has not seemed very important after years have passed by.

In a great many cases the individual has been worrying about a physical condition, that is common to a great many, even to the majority of people, but he thinks it is an extremely serious matter and he is the only one who so suffers.

Therefore the mind specialist, as I said above, patiently and kindly questions and questions the patient until he thinks he has hit upon the cause that started the worrying and depression in the first place. Then if any medical attention is indicated it is given, but in the majority of cases, the "healing out" as it is called, the physician is talking to the original cause of the trouble. Then by a common sense talk and straight reasoning, the patient is enabled to get back into a normal condition mentally.

MUSIC AT WOMAN'S CLUB

Young Ladies' Orchestra and Chorus Features of Program.

Yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock the Woman's club enjoyed a program consisting of typical folk songs and characteristic rhythms of the people of southern Europe.

The program was rendered by a 12-piece orchestra and a chorus of thirteen young ladies, both under the able direction of Mrs. Charles N. Murdock. There were four orchestra selections, all of them rendered in a very pleasing manner. The Spanish folk song, "Chiquita," was dramatically by the chorus and they also sang the Roumanian folk song, "Lili." Mrs. Murdock played a piano solo, which was an adaptation of the overture to William Tell. This number won an unusual amount of applause and the audience tried to call her back, but without avail.

The members of the chorus were: Miss Mabel Thompson, Miss Frances Friable, Miss Ruth Hancoc, Miss Ellen Smith, Miss Helen Ingomar, Miss Virginia Bard, Miss Blanch Southworth, Miss Katherine Dunn, Miss Virginia A. Field, Miss Vesta Chamberlain, Miss Marion Wilder, Miss Margaret Brigham and Miss Gertrude Hyard. The accompanists were Mrs. Ernest Bolton and Miss Dorothy McMorris.

The hostesses of the afternoon were: Mrs. R. C. Briggs, Mrs. E. W. Elmore, Mrs. H. W. Stanton and Mrs. L. D. VanWoert.

Registration of domestic nurses at the Community house this afternoon from 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 o'clock.

Roy Thomas, New Baseball Pilot, Makes Very Favorable Impression

Leader of 1934 Oneonta Club Addresses Large Throng at Big Baseball Rally Last Evening—Intense Enthusiasm Aroused by Remarks of President Wilber of Athletic Association.

Although it will be some weeks before the crack of bat against ball is heard at Oneonta park, Oneonta's 1936 baseball season had its official beginning last evening when a crowd of fans which packed Municipal hall to capacity welcomed the new manager, Roy Thomas, a veteran with 12 years of service in the big leagues, 11 years of coaching experience at the University of Pennsylvania, and two years experience as Cardinal scout and manager of St. Louis farm teams.

—and displayed an enthusiasm that augurs well for the success of the coming season.

The meeting was a huge success in every way. The reception accorded Manager Thomas was just the kind which the directors thought should and would be accorded a man of his type and caliber, the enthusiasm displayed over prospects for the season was spontaneous and hearty and everybody had the good time which was promised, a good time furthered by selections by the Elks' Glee club quartet and refreshments of hot dogs and coffee.

L. V. Wilber, president of the Community Athletic association, presided as chairman of the evening and his personal enthusiasm concerning the new manager, the necessity for keeping Oneonta on the baseball map, and baseball in general soon communicated itself to every person in the hall.

Mr. Wilber, in high humor and his wit, injected frequently into his remarks, kept the speakers and the audience at perfect ease and made the affair most enjoyable.

Must Have Enthusiasm.
Mr. Wilber expressed his pleasure at being back in Oneonta and at being interested in baseball once more among the best people on earth in the best little city on earth. He spoke of Oneonta's enviable reputation in baseball circles and stated that the association proposes this year to better that reputation and put into the field the best team that has ever represented the city.

Enthusiasm for baseball must be aroused, he said. The stands must be filled at every game and the team must be given wholehearted support.

In speaking of the new manager Mr. Wilber said that he knew that the fans would not be disappointed in him. He characterized him as a man who would work well and who would be as well thought of at the end of the season as at the beginning.

Mr. Wilber said that the first move of the committee appointed by the directors to select a manager was to wire Branch Rickey, manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, and Connie Mack, manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, for recommendations. Strange to say these two men, unaware that the other had been contacted, wired back that Roy Thomas of Norristown, Pa., was the man above all others to be secured if possible.

Accordingly Mr. Wilber, D. F. Keyes and Mr. P. H. Mack, comprising the committee, went to Philadelphia and interviewed Mr. Thomas. After a long conference they offered him a contract and a few days later he wired his acceptance.

New Manager Introduced.
Mr. Wilber then introduced Mr. Thomas, who responded graciously to the hearty applause with a talk which left no doubt in the minds of any that his selection was a wise one.

Mr. Thomas said that from a boy he had always been interested in baseball. He described his career as a player, coach and manager, full details of which will be found elsewhere in this article, and stated that one reason which impelled him to accept the Oneonta contract was his good opinion of the climatic conditions of the section. Extremely hot weather had found to be detrimental to his wife's health and he had resolved not to spend this season in the south, where his work as St. Louis scout and manager of minor league clubs owned by the Cardinals would probably call him.

He stated that his plans for the Oneonta team were as yet in the making, but that he had one firm desire and that was to turn out a team that would play hard and aggressively but cleanly. He said that he was somewhat idealistic in his tendencies and that he expected fair treatment for the players from the fans. He derided the "riling" and "ramping" from the bleachers, saying that such conduct on the part of the fans was unfair and was not conducive to good playing on the part of the men on the field. Coachman of college teams, a department of baseball where fair play reigns supreme, has given him a dislike for unsportsmanlike tactics and experience as both player and manager had taught him their harmful effects.

In closing Mr. Thomas said that he hoped to put a ball team into the field which would arouse great enthusiasm in baseball in Oneonta—where enthusiasm ought easily to be aroused because of its proximity to Cooperstown, the birthplace of baseball—and would be a credit to the city.

Following Mr. Thomas' remarks, President Wilber called upon three men who played on the team last year and whose loyalty to the city has induced them to sign contracts for 1936, Eckstein, Minnick and Soykan. The three men, who admitted that their powers of oratory are best displayed when an offending umpire is the subject, spoke briefly, expressing their pleasure at having signed to play again for Oneonta and pledging their best efforts for the success of the team. Scanlon and Davis, who have also signed contracts, were unable to be present.

Nearly $2,000 Raised.
The matter of finance was the next order of business and Mr. Wilber spoke briefly there concerning, stating at the outset that no money would be solicited at the meeting, a fact which he named as one of the big surprises of the gathering.

He said that the directors had changed their financial policy and had resolved to raise before the beginning of the season enough money to carry the team through the season, so that there would be no deficit at the end and consequently no necessity for soliciting funds to pull the association out of a financial hole.

Five thousand dollars was the amount he stated would be raised in the city and vicinity. A committee has been appointed and will call upon fans for contributions. This committee started its work yesterday afternoon and in about two hours secured pledges totaling over $1,500, to which amount was added $150 subscribed by Justice A. L. Kellogg in a telegram received from him from Delhi, where he is now on court.

The Entertainment Features.
Entertainment of a most delightful sort was furnished at the close of the meeting by the Elks' Glee Club quartet, composed of Byron H. Chesbro, S. E. McKean, Wyman S. Rosworth and James B. Walsh. Several selections were rendered by the four accomplished singers and it is quite possible that the applause might have compelled them to sing for an indefinite period had not their repertoire become exhausted.

Hot dogs and coffee were served under the supervision of Head Walter "Freddie" Sitstack and were greatly enjoyed by the fans, whose physical appetites had become whetted along with their mental appetites.

The provisions, were donated by the following persons: Klipnocks coffee, Oneonta Grocery company; cream, D. F. Keyes; sugar, James Koken; rolls, Becker's Bakery; frankfurters, Swift & company; mustard, J. O. & C. N. Rowe.

Roy Thomas.
Roy Thomas began his baseball career 24 years ago when he played on the University of Pennsylvania team. Following his graduation he went with the Philadelphia Nationals and was for nine years on that club as an outfielder. A year was then spent with Pittsburgh and a year with Boston Nationals and he then spent 11 years as coach of the University of Pennsylvania varsity, turning out excellent teams during that period. Two more years with the Phillies ended his major league career.

In 1923 he signed with Branch Rickey as a scout and coach and managed the Fort Smith, Arkansas, and Houston, Texas, teams during that year. These clubs are now owned by the Cardinals. In 1924 he was manager of the Bradenton, Florida, team and later scouted in Canada for the Cardinals.

It is an outfielder and his many years in baseball have not weakened the power of his throwing arm nor dimmed his batting eye.

THROUGH THE WEST WINDS

Ladies Garden Club Luncheon Held on Fourth Southern Ship at Rotary Luncheon.

Depicting vividly scenes witnessed by himself while on his recent trip in Southern waters and speaking interestingly of the customs and habits of the denizens of the West Indies, Ladies Garden Club gave a most enjoyable address at the weekly luncheon yesterday of Oneonta Rotary club.

Mr. Gardner's graphic and altogether charming manner of speaking transported his hearers to the climes whereof he spoke and made the half hour a most delightful one.

The ship upon which Mr. Gardner, and Honey Saunders, his companion, made their trip touch first at Nassau, Bahamas Islands. The point which impressed Mr. Gardner most concerning this quaint old English town was the immensity of the levee traffic.

Donkeys of rum runners are always to be seen in the harbor, and cases of whiskey are piled many feet high on the docks. In Nassau the travelers witnessed a negro funeral which reminded them strongly of the scenes described in the stories of Octavus Roy Cohen.

From the Bahamas, Key West was visited and then Cuba. In Havana Mr. Gardner was impressed by the picturesque of the architecture, not unlike that of stage scenery in its complication of design and its vividness of color. The speaker noted the peculiarity of the automobiles, mostly Ford, which he saw in Havana.

The machines are shipped to Cuba minus upholstery and are embellished by native workmen with highly colored leather upholstery and various kinds of bizarre ornamentation. The streets are very narrow and the apparent lack of any kind of traffic regulations makes driving a hazardous and thrilling experience.

Jamaica was then visited and next the Panama canal, concerning whose wonders Mr. Gardner spoke at length. Venezuela, the famous pitch lake of Trinidad, Barbados, Martinique, St. Thomas and Porto Rico were visited on the return trip. Of all the places which he visited Mr. Gardner characterized Panama and Porto Rico as being the most interesting.

Despite the fact that he enjoyed himself keenly during his absence, Mr. Gardner was glad to get back in Oneonta again, which he called the best of all places to be.

The club voted to endorse the so-called crippled children's bill introduced into the state legislature by Senator Frederick M. Davenport at the instance of the Rotary clubs of the state and directed that telegrams urging support of the bill be sent to Assemblyman Smith and Senator Bloomfield.

Jack Breisford, Bert Lowe, A. E. Riedorfer and Alva Seybolt were welcomed into the club by Dr. George J. Dunn. The meeting was a very enthusiastic one, the singing being featured by rehearsal of Canadian songs to be sung at the district conference at Syracuse next month.

Guests present at the luncheon were Kivansians E. E. McKean, Russell E. Brigham and John W. Flynn and L. S. Dauler, Henry Saunders and Dr. Ray Champlin of Oneonta, Herbert S. Tilton of New York city, Rev. C. E. Nichols of Herkimer, C. L. Bolton of Philadelphia, Pa., and J. J. Raymond of Oneonta.

DEATH OF MRS. C. B. FOSTER.

Widow of Utica Physician Dies at Cooperstown.

Emma Jackson, widow of Dr. Charles B. Foster, formerly of Utica, died at her home in Cooperstown Wednesday morning. She had been out of health for some time.

Mrs. Foster was born in New York city, a daughter of James L. Jackson. She married Dr. Foster and lived in the city more than 20 years. She was a communicant member of Grace Episcopal church.

The family lived on Genesee street, where the Mayo building now stands. Dr. Foster died in 1916 and soon afterwards his widow moved to New York. Occasionally she visited her sister-in-law, Miss Kittie Foster, and other friends here.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Milnor Krieger of Cherry Valley and Mrs. Sophie Soto of Cooperstown, and one son, Charles B. Foster, Boston. She leaves also two brothers, James L. Jackson, Cleveland, and Charles W. Jackson, Cincinnati. Her remains will be interred in Forest Hill cemetery.—[Utica Press.]

Tailor Makes Valuable Find

"After spending $200 for medicine and doctor in four years without getting any benefit for stomach trouble and indigestion, I was induced by my druggist to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I took one bottle and found my stomach was doing me good. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and plays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis, the dose will cure you or money refunded. At druggists everywhere.

Cost of Beauty

My Cost, $100,000—yours, 50c a week—By Edna Wallace Hopper

My quest of beauty cost mother and me at least $100,000. We searched the world to get the best that science had to offer.

But those helps made me famous as a beauty. And they have kept me a youthful beauty to my grand old age.

Now I want others to enjoy those same helps. I have arranged so all may get them. Any girl or woman may get all my helps at a cost not over 50c per week.

White Youth Cream

My skin is like a baby's yet mine is a grandmother's age. I owe that largely to a suppository which France created for me.

Not like the crude muddy clay or starchy skin emollient. This is white, refined and delicate. It is based on 20 years of scientific study. No other skin cream compares with it.

I call this my White Youth Cream. It gives the skin of all that clean, healthy, youthful glow of youthfulness and beauty. It brings that very thing which all women and girls desire. It removes all lines and wrinkles, restores natural color.

There is a multitude beauty, how it keeps youthful bloom to cheer by my complexion. We get it from the White Youth Cream. It is the only one that will do it.

White Youth Cream is sold by all druggists and beauty shops.

GOVERNOR CALLS CONFERENCE

Invites Editors and Publishers of Upstate Newspapers and Press Journals to Consider Budget and Four Year Term.

Governor Alfred E. Smith has sent out invitations to the editors or publishers of daily and weekly papers outside the city of New York to a conference of strictly agricultural papers, together with a number of gentlemen interested in the problems of the state to meet with him for a conference at the Executive mansion in Albany, Wednesday evening, March 28th.

The governor is concerned about the future of the state government. This is divided in to three parts—the consolidation of the 137 scattered departments of the state government into 21 major departments; the executive budget and the four-year term for the governor.

The constitutional changes necessary to bring about the consolidation were passed last year and the consolidation of departments which can be effected by statute are going forward. The executive budget and the four-year term, both of which require changes in the constitution and which are essential features of the program, are now before the legislature and are about to be acted upon at this session.

The governor hopes by placing his position upon these important matters before the public to arouse public opinion which will force their passage this year. Doubtless he will secure a good attendance of editors who desire to know more about these proposals.

STRIKING CATSKILL STUDENTS

End Strike Against Rule on Smoking After Teacher Messages as Smoking.

Catskill, Mar. 20.—One hundred pupils attending the High school here returned to their class rooms today after a "strike" which started at noon yesterday, in anticipation of action of the school authorities barring Chauncey Smith, a senior, from school activities. Smith smoked during a play in the school building Monday night.

Miss Avis Patterson, instructor in English, coach of the senior play and senior class advisor, resigned as advisor after the four boys who are said to have smoked despite the warnings of the authorities, had refused to apologize for their action.

The four, south Howard Silberstein, Tenfold Jennings, Chester Blakelock and Smith, today refused to apologize. The class voted to uphold the four, and Miss Patterson's resignation was accepted.

The climax in the dispute was reached yesterday afternoon when the class marched through the streets to the home of J. Henry Dean, president of the board of education. Mr. Dean advised the pupils to send a committee to a meeting of the board Monday night for settlement of the issue. On this statement the striking pupils promised to return to school.

MILL NOT DESTROYED

Risley & Green Lost About Forty Thousand of Lumber.

The information relative to the fire occurring late Wednesday night at Houghsiding Hollow, given in yesterday's Star, while the best obtainable at the time of publication, proved to be inaccurate. The Star's informant, however, giving the being that could be secured by any one with a telephone, none being located near the fire.

The fire proved to be on the Dwight Harder farm as stated. The mill, however, did not burn, the fire being in some piles of mixed lumber. It was thought yesterday that about 40,000 feet were destroyed. The lumber was owned by Risley & Green of the East & West End Lumber company. Mr. Risley went to the scene yesterday afternoon, but the Star was unable to locate him last evening on his return. Hence no explanation of the cause of the fire has been heard.

SPRING FASHIONS AT THE CITY

The box coat is the thing for spring this season, but there are box coats and box coats. Straight lines mark the "1934 models." The flare is all gone out of the skirt of the overcoat; shoulders and body are not as extremely loose; the coats hang comfortably and drape easily, giving more style and just as much ease.

Medical Writer Tells How to Keep Well

Smith, through, Victor and Vichity Ave. Nature's Greatest Blessing, Do You Want That?

REMEMBER THIS GOOD ADVICE THEN TELL IT TO A FRIEND.

Nowadays most persons realize that good health is the greatest asset—the crown of all blessings—but how to get it and hold it has been a constant puzzle since the time of Hippocrates.

There are many symptoms, but outside of them, no symptoms are so common as that of poor digestion. It can be traced to one of two causes—the lack of power to break down the food, or the lack of power to absorb the nutrients. In either case, the result is the same—poor health.

It is not the food that is the trouble, but the way it is handled. The food is not broken down properly, and the nutrients are not absorbed. The result is a weak, listless, nervous, and generally out of control system. It is a pity that you system is not working better than it is. It is a pity that you system is not working better than it is.

A simple, safe and easy way to avoid or overcome the weakness of the system, and to keep your liver and bowels—keep them active and regular and in most cases all health of this kind will pass by your door.

In conditions of this kind, a medical preparation of a purely vegetable nature, such as the Puritan Laxative of Dr. David Kennedy, should be of remarkable value. This preparation is made from the purest ingredients of Dr. David Kennedy and has been very successfully used for more than 40 years. Practically all good drug stores carry it, and while it only costs a trifle, even this will be cheerfully refunded if the treatment is not more than justified with its use. Advise.

Parting of Mohammedan World.

Tremendous desert wastes are not alone responsible for the fact that the outside world is ignorant of the life in the heart of Arabia. That country — if the area over which the Moslem empire may be called a country — has one of the most effective barriers of the world: the Arabian desert. These people do not care to go into the outside world, and they want no visits from Western traders, diplomats, military experts or missionaries — especially missionaries. They are most-thoroughly satisfied on the subject of religious shutouts. As Wahabites they are perhaps better known to the world than as Moslems, for the former name they owe to their religious associations.

"Blue laws have never taken on so deep a tinge of blue as in the land of the Wahabites. To drink or even smoke tobacco is not merely a question in their strict code: it is a capital offense. It is equally an offense according to their view, to use rich and sumptuous in apparel, and they have made more than one effort to invade Mecca itself to reduce the holy places there to Wahabi simplicity. They even look upon other Mohammedans as not of their sect as unbelievers unworthy of life.

Capital of Baghdad City.

The capital of the Moslem world is now truly a Baghdad city that is in ruins. The only Wahabite known to have visited it in recent years was an American physician, suggested in that he might give the life of a child, and it is believed that even this crowd of mercy would not have saved him from summary execution were for a brief time stretched their standards.

"There has been a Sultan and an 'acting Sultan' of Baghdad in recent years. The first an aged patriarch and the second his energetic son. But yet forty years of rule. The Sultan of the desert of the Sultan do not make it clear which of these leaders has passed away. The young ruler has stuck closely to the traditions of the prophet to limit his wives to four — at one time he adopted the sign of having one child, permanent wife, and of changing the other three every 90 days. After serving on temporary duty, the 36-day wives were destroyed on great funeral pyres. Two Arabian girls were recent members of his family circle.

"Great Britain has been paying the ruler of the Night a huge subsidy — $200,000 a year, an 'honorarium' four times as great as the salary and allowances of the President of the United States. The young Sultan has taken the cash and has let his followers on about their fangs pretty much as they wished. Great Britain has 'let it go' much more than the money. It is said, defending the kings of Arabia, Transjordan and Iraq against Wahabi incursions."

Colorado Woman Has Watch Worn by Lee

An old coin-silver watch, weighing about half a pound, which was carried through the Civil war by General Robert E. Lee, commander-in-chief of the Confederate army, came to light in Denver recently.

The watch is of the old-time lap-winding type, with the hunting case engraved and the name "Robert E. Lee" engraved on the work.

It is now the property of Mrs. George Roberts Henny, who lives near Fort Logan, on the outskirts of Denver.

Mrs. Henny displayed the watch was presented by Lee to a private in the Confederate army for some act of bravery and came into the possession of her grandfather, William Roberts, who lived near Hines, Ga.

Demand for Bible Grows

All samples for Bible distribution were shipped in 1933, the American Bible society announced at New York, 2,000,000 copies in 125 languages and dialects having been circulated in this country. "There is more demand for the Bible today than at any time during the last 25 years," reported an official of the society.

Big Demand for Bibles

The demand for bibles is greater than the supply in Brooklyn, N. Y. This fact was revealed when the advertising campaign of the Alliance of Women's Clubs reported that persons are asking the more bibles today than are available for delivery.

Sugar From Suburbs

Green and American markets have again received 200,000 lb. of sugar from the suburbs and other parts of the country and will continue to receive more. A woman in one of the suburbs is said to be making 25 cents a pound. Plans are in hand to start a factory.

A Feminine Charm That Lingers

It makes little difference how long a man has been married, he still is impressed by those feminine charms of his wife which first attracted him. One such attraction which impresses most men is the soft, smooth loveliness of a woman's hands.

In compliance to a majority of the most intelligent modern housewives, it should be said that they know how to retain this important feminine charm. They know that red, rough and coarse looking hands result from the use of a poor grade household soap which irritates the skin.

Realizing this, they select their household soap as carefully as they do their toilet soap. And this sort of care has led thousands of thinking housewives always to insist upon Kirkman's Soap.

KIRKMAN'S Soap is as harmless to the hands as it is the most exquisite toilet soap. Being free from irritating lye, it will not harm the skin or injure the most delicate fabrics. Only the finest materials are used in making Kirkman's Soap.

For the sake of your hands insist upon Kirkman's.

HEALTH CAMPAIGN MADE BY U.S. NAVY

Medical Officers Spread Message of Hygiene

During the fiscal year 1931 the medical department of the navy continued its work of former years in connection with the native populations of Guam, American Samoa, the Virgin Islands and Hawaii, and was instrumental in promoting various measures designed to further the public health of these islands, according to the annual report of the surgeon general at Washington.

Improvement of the living conditions of the natives of the Virgin Islands has been brought about by various factors, the report says, among them being the installation of an adequate water supply and a modern sewage system, which is beginning to supersede the collection of water in sanitary cisterns and water barrels, and the objectionable compounds formerly in use; the careful sanitary supervision of the towns, including markets, abattoirs and milk supply, and adequate provision for the care of the indigent sick.

Typhoid Fever Wiped Out

Typhoid fever, which formerly was very prevalent in the Virgin Islands, has been abolished by requiring all persons residing on the islands between the ages of five and forty-five to be inoculated with anti-typhoid vaccine. Smallpox has likewise been prevented by the vaccination of the entire population, the report states. An improvement in infant and maternal welfare was produced by the establishment of a maternity ward and a children's ward at the municipal hospital in St. Thomas, thus providing means for the removal of expectant mothers and sick children from homes "where ignorance, squalor and extreme poverty threatened health and life." At the same time, it is stated, a training school for native nurses was established, and systematic instruction, both theoretical and practical, is now carried on by navy medical officers and nurses.

Another step undertaken to promote health in the Virgin Islands was the formulation of a sanitary code. It has been drawn up with every regard for the needs of a small island community, the report says, and has proved exceedingly helpful in the administration of health activities. The report also points out that before the transfer of the Virgin Islands to the United States no steps had been taken to control mosquito breeding. As soon as the change in sovereignty was effected these measures which had proved of value in the Canal zone, somewhat modified to meet local conditions, were instituted, and mosquitoes were prevented from breeding in the towns.

Activities at Guam

"In connection with the Naval hospital at Guam two dispensaries—the Orono hospital and the Tuberculosis hospital—and several dispensaries are maintained for the native inhabitants of Guam," continues the report. "During the past year 3,417 patients were admitted to these hospitals and 38,000 patients received treatment at the dispensaries."

"There are at present fifteen native women under instruction at the training school for native nurses conducted in connection with the Orono hospital. The course in nursing in this school is largely under the supervision of the chief nurse of the naval hospital. Some of these native women have acquired a fair degree of efficiency and have become very useful about the wards, especially among the native female patients and the native children. Several of the graduates of this school have become fairly proficient midwives and practice successfully in their native villages."

"The treatment of native children infested with parasites has been vigorously prosecuted during the year with good results. There are eleven dispensaries in different parts of the island, six of which are conducted by members of the hospital corps of the navy, while the balance are administered by native school teachers who have been trained for this purpose by naval medical officers."

Dental Clinic for Natives

The Orono hospital continues to do splendid work and is gradually gaining the confidence of the people. To this institution 481 patients were admitted during the year, requiring 1,404 days of treatment. In the dispensary 9,002 patients received treatment. At this hospital a dental clinic for Orono people is held twice a week. As in Guam, a training school for native nurses is conducted in connection with this hospital. Since the establishment of this school in 1914, nineteen native women have been graduated, and fourteen are now under instruction. Ten of the graduate nurses are employed as visiting nurses in the various native communities. These nurses administer simple drugs, attend confinement cases, instruct mothers in care of babies, and see that those who need treatment are sent to the hospital."

The report says that a recent survey of Samoa revealed 2,300 cases of yaws, a type of skin disease, upon which a campaign was immediately started to eradicate it by the administration of neosalvarsan. More than 7,000 doses of this preparation were administered and examinations were put into effect to bring about the early treatment of all new cases and the destruction of those which are started to be the principal agents in the transmission of yaws in Samoa, and to prevent the introduction of the disease from foreign ports.

Five Cases of Syphilis

A serious type of syphilis is very prevalent in Samoa, says the report, adding that its effects may be noticed in every village, where it is by no means uncommon and children are often with yaws as a result of the disease. A recent survey revealed 200 cases in a population of 12,000, and more than 800 cases of yaws in the Hawaiian group. However, when this survey was completed, more than 50 per cent of the population was afflicted with this disease of the eye each year, according to the report. Recent investigations by naval medical officers show that it is caused by a gram negative diplococcus. It is believed that, like yaws, this disease is spread by means of flies, and measures have accordingly been instituted to control it by early treatment of the inflammation and the prevention of fly breeding, the report states.

In connection with its discussion of health matters in Hawaii the report describes a campaign instituted by naval medical officers on duty with the natives stationed there, to bring about a reduction in the high rate of malarial disease. This campaign involved the administration of quinine to the natives living in proximity to Marine Corps camps, on the assumption that every adult native had been infected with malaria at some time and was a potential carrier of the disease, even though not ill with the fever. As a result of this campaign, a sharp decline in the number of malarial cases among natives is reported.

"The prevention of malaria among troops operating in tropical countries by the administration of quinine to the natives of surrounding areas is possible," declares the report, "but the difficulties in carrying out the routine of the treatment are perfectly obvious to any one who has lived in the tropics and dealt with ignorant natives. However, the plan is feasible, and the procedure has been proved practicable by the naval medical officers on duty in Hawaii."
